SomaNYC has another hot show comin' up. Superluminal Motion opens Thursday August 7th with a reception from 7:30-10. Superluminal Motion is the work of josh spodek who creates "cinetic art installations". As opposed to cinema where you sit still and the film moves, in cinetics the image is still and your motion creates the animation. This show isn't open to the public. You must rsvp to info@somanyc.com to get in. Space is limited!

For an early viewing of Josh's work you can take a northbound PATH train from 14th Street and 6th Avenue. You'll see the display through the windows of the left hand side of the train just after the train leaves the station.
